

Associate Vice Chancellor of Technology Selected

May 31, 2022

Dear Colleagues,

I am pleased to announce that Kerry Kilber Rebman has been selected as Associate Vice Chancellor of Technology following a competitive search process. Kerry has successfully served in the position on an interim basis for more than a year, and will officially begin in the permanent role on July 1.

As Associate Vice Chancellor of Technology Kerry will lead technology-related initiatives and services across the District. She will lead the development of both long and short-term plans for IT systems development, systems maintenance and critical support services, including several major IT projects such as upgrading the Student Information System and transitioning to a new Financial Aid system.

Kerry first joined the Grossmont-Cuyamaca Community College District in 2010. She served as Dean for Learning and Technology Resources at both Cuyamaca and Grossmont colleges. Before that, she worked as a director at the University of San Diego, where she led an online-based graduate degree program.

Kerry is highly respected across the District. She has built strong working relationships with many colleagues at District Services as well as both colleges, which has been instrumental in her success in the interim role, and is known for her sense of humor, kindness and professionalism.

Kerry began her career teaching and developing an elementary language program in public schools in LaFayette, Georgia. She holds a bachelor's degree in German from Minnesota State University and a master's degree in nonprofit leadership and management from the University of San Diego.

Please join me in congratulating Kerry on her new role.

Sincerely,

Lynn
