It was determined that IT would engage with Ellucian to get more information on what the ERP would look like, what the timeline would be, how much money is needed and who needs to be involved. Colleague houses all of our student registration, student information, student services and cost of instruction. Colleague has several modules; some we have not yet implemented yet. As we look at Colleague and upgrades, it was suggested having Ellucian come out to do a strategic assessment on how we are using Colleague. Ellucian is prepared to come out in October and it would entail two and a half to three days. Their goal is to provide results before they leave. The Presidents will follow up with their VPs of Student Services on date(s). Julie added at a recent statewide workshop, there was a lot of focus on the software, Starfish, and thought we may want to explore this further. The State will give colleges a $45,000 mini-grant to help with the start-up costs and an additional $27,000 for license fee if it gets done within a year. b. There was further discussion about what features we requested to see from the vendors as demos varied on what was shown. Pat responded that a taskforce was put together that came up with the list of features we wanted to see from the vendors and it was his understanding that list was given to the vendors. We need to resurrect those criteria when we make our final decision. There was further concern on whether or not we got comparable demonstrations. There was consensus, however, to move forward with the assessment.
